DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-7, drawn to a method of producing polyphosphazene microspheres, classified in class 424, subclass 491.
 - II. Claims 8-10, drawn to a method of producing polyphosphazene microspheres containing material to be encapsulated, classified in class 424, subclass 489.
 - III. Claim 11, drawn to a vaccine comprising the polyphosphazene microspheres, classified in class 435, subclass 235.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are independent inventions and thus are subject to restriction.

The inventions are independent processes in that the methods are not dependent on each other, not to be used together and have different functions, modes of operation and effects. The inventions of Groups I-II are independent processes; the methods do not depend on each other. Additionally, the inventions also have different modes of operation and effect. The modes of operation recited in the invention of Group I differs from that of those recited in the invention of Group II; and the invention of Group I is directed at a method of producing polyphosphazene microspheres; whereas, the invention of Group II is directed at method of producing polyphosphazene microspheres containing material to be encapsulated.

Art Unit: 1648

Inventions II and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product, such as non-polyphosphazene microspheres.

2. Claim 8 is generic to a plurality of disclosed patentably distinct species comprising proteins, biologically active synthetic compounds, nucleic acids, rotovirus, measles, mumps, rubella, polio, hepatitis A, hepatitis B, herpes virus, human immunodeficiency virus, influenza virus, Haemophilus influenza, Clostridium tetani, Corynebacterium diphtheria, and Neisseria gonorrhea. Each of the listed species is patentably distinct from one another.

3. Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, even though this requirement is traversed. Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Art Unit: 1648

5. The examiner has required restriction between product and process claims. Where applicant elects claims directed to the product, and a product claim is subsequently found allowable, withdrawn process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the allowable product claim will be rejoined in accordance with the provisions of MPEP § 821.04. Process claims that depend from or otherwise include all the limitations of the patentable product will be entered as a matter of right if the amendment is presented prior to final rejection or allowance, whichever is earlier. Amendments submitted after final rejection are governed by 37 CFR 1.116; amendments submitted after allowance are governed by 37 CFR 1.312.

In the event of rejoinder, the requirement for restriction between the product claims and the rejoined process claims will be withdrawn, and the rejoined process claims will be fully examined for patentability in accordance with 37 CFR 1.104. Thus, to be allowable, the rejoined claims must meet all criteria for patentability including the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 101, 102, 103, and 112. Until an elected product claim is found allowable, an otherwise proper restriction requirement between product claims and process claims may be maintained. Withdrawn process claims that are not commensurate in scope with an allowed product claim will not be rejoined. See "Guidance on Treatment of Product and Process Claims in light of In re Ochiai, In re Brouwer and 35 U.S.C. § 103(b)," 1184 O.G. 86 (March 26, 1996). Additionally, in order to retain the right to rejoinder in accordance with the above policy, Applicant is advised that the process claims should be amended during prosecution either to maintain dependency on the product claims or to otherwise include the limitations of the product claims. Failure to do so may result in a loss of the right to rejoinder. Further, note that the prohibition against double patenting rejections of 35 U.S.C. 121 does not apply where the restriction requirement is withdrawn by the examiner before the patent issues. See MPEP § 804.01.

6. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

7. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
